When Father has the Grip.

Poor mother wears a worried look And sister wears a frown; And if I venture up the stairs

They send me straightway down I'm going to the drug store now. Upon a hurried trip, To get some other kind of dope

For father has the grip. I heard him groaning in the night. He said his head would split; And then he thought his back would break: In just a little bit. He told us that his legs were sore, And soon it was his hip: It seems that everything is sick, before I give this pain the slip; I'll bet he'd find a faster dope If he had got the grip.

As there are two republicans on the commission, it is to be expected that one of them either Campbell or Aitchison, will be chairman. The salary of each member is to be $4,000 a year. Salem, Or., Feb. 20.-Rather than surrender their passes, the senators this morning passed the compulsory transportation bill over the governor's veto by 20 to 9. This is the finish of the anti-pass fight, which has waged at all sessions. How this measure will harmonize with the provisions of the railroad commission law must be solved later. One reason the senators overrode the veto was the fear that they would have to pay fare back home. Working on this theory Senator Hedges volunteered to wire Oregon City for enough funds to pay the fare of every senator, and a though confessing himself a selfish man, he promised to let any senator retain the money as a gift if they could not well repay. Whealden and Hedges were the only two who changed their vote from the original vote on the bill. These formerly voted to defeat the measure, but flopped and voted to override the governor's decision.
